

College Lecture

November 12 7:00 pm in P'Gill G54

"Modes of Production: Art, Activism, and the itinerant textile worker"

Sewing Rebellion

Schaeffer Theater #105 COSTUME SHOP

Sunday, November 16 1-6 PM

Emancipate yourself from the global garment industry by learning how to alter, mend and make your own garments and accessories! Frau Fiber, itinerant textile worker and activist will distribute her knowledge of the garment industry, pattern making and sewing, encouraging the reuse, renovation and recycling of existing garments and textiles in the creation of unique items tailored to individual tastes and body shapes.

Bring your pants to mend, garments to alter, or an old piece of cloth to make into a East German style shopping bag. Or just come eager to learn, and produce a Hunters Hat or White-collar Shirt.

Carole Frances Lung's ultimate ego, Frau Fiber, Textile worker and Activist, is on a quest for alternative modes of garment production utilizing conversation, performances of labor, and knock-off garment construction. Lung completed her MFA in Fiber and Materials Studies at the School of the Art Institute Chicago in 2007.

Sponsors: Bates Teaching Associate Program, Women and Gender Studies, African American and American Cultural Studies, Interdisciplinary and Humanities Divisions, Rhetoric, Theatre & Dance, Art and Visual culture, The Office Affirmative Action and Institutional Diversity Projects.

Sponsors: Bates Teaching Associate Program, Women and Gender Studies, African American and American Cultural Studies, Interdisciplinary and Humanities Divisions, Rhetoric, Theatre & Dance, Art And Visual Culture.